

CHAPTER 1: Organization and Administration

Policy 1A.4: Communication

The college will maintain an open communication process and structure that informs members of the college community, promotes interaction, and provides staff and students the opportunity to express ideas and influence decision-making.

Philosophy

An important part of the philosophy of this college is to function in a climate that facilitates communication. Essential to this philosophy is the belief that individuals work most effectively when they participate in shaping the system of which they are a part and the belief that authority should be delegated where possible and appropriate.
